The Lost Hat

By Elizabeth Clarke

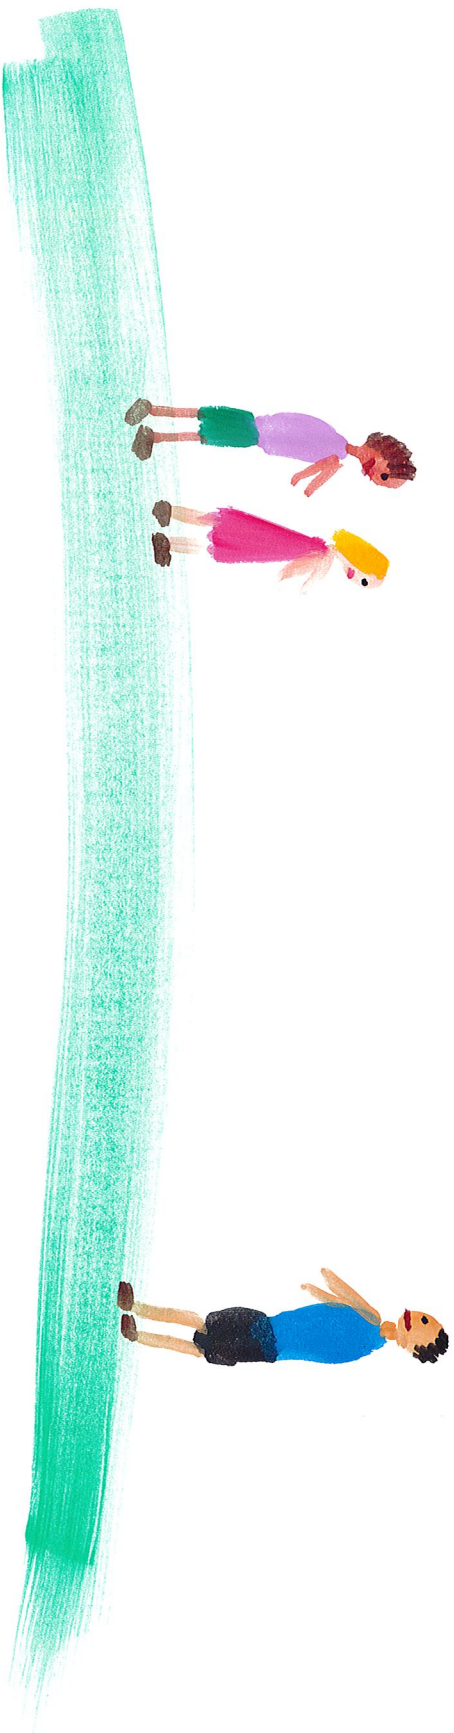

Oh no! I lost my own hat again!

My mother is going to be so mad. She will say that I can't play.

I will walk around and try my best to find it.

I'll ask these kids to give me hand.
"Can you help me find my hat?" I say.

"Yes. What kind of hat is it?"

"I can help too. Did you bring it to school or have you left it in your room at home?" they ask me.

"How about we ask that man." They say.

I say, "Have you seen my hat?"

"No. I wish I could help you." He says

The kids have an idea! "Let's walk to the far end of the lake and step on the rocks. Maybe it's over there."

Yayi I found my hati 😊
